

CURRY TO VISIT LAS VEGAS FRIDAY

Governor Will Be Guest of Meadow City For One Day.

Las Vegas, N. M., Sept. 4.—Governor Curry has arranged to drop his official duties at Santa Fe for one day on Friday and will come to Las Vegas Friday for a short visit. He recently expressed a desire to make a trip to the mecca of the dry farmer, and a short time ago an invitation was extended to him by the Commercial club to be the guest of the city for a day.

The governor will arrive here on No. 8 early Friday morning and a program for his entertainment has been mapped out by the business men and members of the various commercial organizations of the two towns that will keep the chief executive on the jump from the moment he has his breakfast in the morning until late at night.

Busy Program Arranged.
The first thing in the morning the governor will be whisked out to the mesa lands in an automobile, where he will be shown crops that excel anything in Illinois or Ohio. He will see the finest wheat and oats in the world and when he comes back he will doubt be more than ever proud of the high office he holds.

The governor will be entertained at lunch by Judge Mills, after which he will visit the normal school, and if he has time will also make the rounds of the public schools of the city.

It will be the guest of Dr. Smith at the insane asylum at dinner and after an inspection of that institution will be hurried to the Las Vegas club, where a short reception has been arranged in his honor. Later he will return to East Las Vegas, where a smoker will be given for him at the rooms of the Commercial club.

Provided the plans of the reception committee are carried out in full the new official head of the territory will be going some all the time he is in Las Vegas and it is the intention of the citizens to impress upon him the growing importance of the city of Las Vegas not only as a commercial center, but as a community of comfortable homes and general prosperity.

Lame Back.
This is an ailment for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has proven especially valuable. In almost every instance it affords prompt and permanent relief. Mr. Luke LaGrange of Orange, Mich., says of it: "After using a plaster and other remedies for three weeks for a bad lame back, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and two applications affected a cure." For sale by all druggists.

FULLEN APPOINTED DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 4.—Governor Curry received the resignation of James M. Hervey, of Roswell, as district attorney of the eighth district, which he was tendered on account of the continued ill health of Mr. Hervey, and his physical inability to perform the important duties of the office, which he has held for eight years and in which he has made a very creditable record. The governor appointed Louis O. Fullen, postmaster at Carlsbad, the county seat of Eddy county, and one of the foremost among the younger attorneys of New Mexico, to the vacancy. The governor did not wait a moment, as the district court for Eddy county is now in session in Carlsbad and it is of the highest importance for the proper conduct of the court and the disposition of criminal business that a district attorney to represent the territory be at work at this time. Mr. Fullen was highly recommended by members of the bar of the three counties, regardless of politics, for the position, as well as by many leading citizens of his section.

Sick Headache.
This disease is caused by a derangement of the stomach. Take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to correct this disorder and the sick headache will disappear. For sale by all druggists.

CANTALOUPES IN SOUTHWEST COLORADO

Irrigated Farming Has Attained Wonderful Perfection For That Product.

"The Apple Specialist" contains the following article by one of the best authorities in the country, which is of especial interest owing to recent agitation for irrigation in the Rio Grande valley:

Colorado Cantaloupes.
"In the great irrigated section ranging from 40 to 100 miles east of Pueblo to the Missouri Pacific railroad, conditions are ideal for the production of cantaloupes. Although the country has been under irrigation only six or seven years and although farmers have not as yet gone into the cantaloupe industry extensively, enough of them have been successful to indicate that it is splendidly situated and possesses the conditions necessary to profitable culture."

"I recently visited this region and looked into the cantaloupe industry very carefully. I found that the soil is a rich loam, some portions of it being lighter than others. This ranges in depth from 7 to 8 or 10 feet and underlaid with a subsoil of red sandstone. The cantaloupe is a very early crop and the ground is turned to a depth of 6 or 8 inches. The winters there are so mild that plowing can often be continued up to January, so that the cantaloupe farmer has an abundance of time to do the work."

In the spring the plowed fields are harrowed and disced until the clods are all pulverized and the seedbed is perfectly smooth and fine. This is an easy operation as the soil here works easily and is seldom in anything but the finest condition."

Planting Seed.
The rows are 6 feet apart. A furrow is run where the row is to be planted on the side of the furrow. This makes it possible to apply the irrigation water without wetting the plants thus producing vines perfectly free from rust. The atmosphere of this region is naturally dry and if no moisture touches the vines they are through in first class condition. I found also on careful inquiry that up to date cantaloupe vines have not been attacked by insects."

"The plants are usually given about two plantings or sometimes three. The water is turned into a furrow and it is allowed to run full, when it is shut off at the upper side of the field, and the cantaloupe vines are watered and the plant with all the water it needs."

Cultivation.
"The crop is usually given about two hoeings and one cultivating. This, of course, depends somewhat upon the season, although nearly all seasons are alike in this region. Growers plant cantaloupes on either new or old ground, but alfalfa land gives best results."

"As a rule the cantaloupe grower is ready to start shipping about the 10th. Daily pickings are made from that time until probably October 15th, when the last shipment is started to market. A cantaloupe is ready to pick when the stem separates from the melon easily by pressing it with a small forked stick. Each cantaloupe is wrapped in paper and packed in one or two three dozen boxes. At Orday, this year the crop sold from 75 cents to $1.50 per dozen. Up to date, because of the small number of growers, each man handled his own crop. Next year the crop will be handled by a local organization. During 1936, 500 to 600 acres were grown in the territory. The crop was sold from $1.20 to $1.50 per dozen. The satisfaction of the men who handled them. For example, Mr. Hosler had eight acres. When this was in bloom he was offered $1,200 for the prospective crop. This he refused and sold melons and seed amounting to $4,200 gross. The net returns from these eight acres during 1936 was between $3,000 and $3,200. This means around $400 per acre."

Collecting Seed.
"The seed was secured by collecting it from the melons that were over ripe. It sells for $2.50 per pound. It requires about one pound of seed to plant an acre. The seed is planted directly in the open field after the danger of frost is past. The seed is usually dropped by hand as was corn years ago."

"This location is quite free from frost. It is 250 feet above the river, so that currents of cold water run down to the river and do not injure the crop on higher land."

"The cantaloupe industry is more fully developed in the Rocky Ford region but conditions around Orday are even better than in this famous territory. The shipments from the Rocky Ford region amount to 1,200 to 1,500 cars a season. The output is sent to New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and the demand is much greater than the supply."

"In the vicinity of Orday a new melon has been developed. Up to date it is called the Rocky Gem. It evidently came from Burpee's Gem and some local variety. It is of as high quality as the Rocky Ford with this difference: the entire interior of the melon is meat. The meat is of very high quality and the melon being much more solid than the Rocky Ford ships better. It matures directly after the Rocky Ford is on the market, and consequently finds a splendid sale at the end of the season. The flesh is pink and very spicy and sweet. Consumers say that the percentage of poor melons from this variety is much smaller than any other on the market. Not one in fifty is bad."
